3. Met briefly with Bob Smart and inquired when the Kilday Subcommittee of House Armed Services might be meeting again. He said Mr. Kilday was anxious for a meeting and they might arrange a further session within the next month. I also thanked Mr. Smart for his assistance in taking up the Air America [redacted] [redacted] matter with Mr. Kilday.

that he had put anyone to any trouble on this. He indicated he merely had to get something in writing to satisfy a constituent and he was sorry to have put any of us to any trouble. He offered to assist us in any way possible if the matter came up again.

25X1 8. In company with Lt. Col. Rettgers of Army L&L met with John A. Jackson in Senator Leverett Saltonstall's office and delivered to him the Army's letter on the [] case. I gave Mr. Jackson a brief outline of the situation and he appeared to have no real questions on the matter and thought the letter from the Army would be satisfactory for the Senator's purposes. (Rettgers previously worked on the Downey matter for the Agency. John Jackson was knowledgeable of the true status in the Fecteau case.)

9. Met with Gardner Turner at his request. He said a friend of Senator Styles Bridges was interested possibly in association with the Agency. I have agreed to furnish to Mr. Gardner recruiting pamphlets, application forms, and selected speeches of the DCI. (This was done 15 June.)

25X1 11. Advised [] in OSI that unless OSI had other thoughts, it was our feeling that we should not volunteer the two classified intelligence memoranda pertaining to Communist research in the field of oceanography to Representative George P. Miller. (See Journal of 3 June 1959.) [] agreed to this. If Congressman Miller should request these materials at some later time we will review the matter again.
